УПАТСТВО ЗА КАНДИДАТОТ

Внимателно прочитај го упатството. Не испуштај ништо.

Залепи ја едната шифра на означеното место на тестот („Шифра на кандидатот”), а другата шифра на означеното место на листот за одговори.

Не врти страници и не почнувај со решавање на задачите сè додека не ти каже надгледувачот. Тестот содржи задачи.

На задачите се одговара на еден од следните начини:

- со заокружување на буквата пред точниот одговор;
- со пишување текст во просторот што е предвиден за тоа;
- со пишување одговор на соодветното место во табелите.

Внимавај на јазикот и на правописот во одговорите. Пишувај читливо. Нечитливите одговори, нејасните поправки и заокружувањето на повеќе од предвидениот број опции се вреднуваат со нула (0) поени.

И во тестот и во листот за одговори пишувај исклучиво со пенкало. Одговорите на задачите напишани со молив се вреднуваат со нула (0) поени.

Преписувањето е најстрого забрането. Сите идентични или слични текстови, како и текстовите испишани со различни ракописи се вреднуваат со нула (0) поени.

Покрај секоја задача е даден бројот на поените за точниот одговор.

За делот Пишување предвидено е да напишеш два текста. Тестаторот ќе ти даде дополнителен лист во кој се напишани насловот на задачите и упатствата според кои треба да пишуваш.

Задачите се одговараат прво во тестот. Откако ќе завршиш со одговарањето на прашањата во тестот, одговорите на задачите пренеси ги на листот за одговори, според Упатството за пополнување дадено во него.

Ти посакуваме многу успех!

A few minutes ago, walking back from lunch, I started to cross the street when I heard the sound of a coin dropping. It wasn't much, but as I turned, my eyes caught the heads of several other people turning too. A woman had dropped what appeared to be a dime.

The tinkling sound of a coin dropping on the pavement is an attention-getter. It can be nothing more than a penny. Whatever the coin is, no one ignores the sound of it. It got me thinking about sounds again.

We are besieged by so many sounds that attract a lot of attention. People in New York City seldom turn to look when a fire engine, a police car or an ambulance comes screaming along the street.

When I'm in New York, I'm a New Yorker. I don't turn either. Like the natives. I hardly hear a siren there.

At home, in my little town in Connecticut, it's different. The distant wail of a police car, an emergency vehicle or a fire siren brings me to my feet if I'm seated and brings me to the window if I'm in bed.

It's the quietest sounds that have the most effect on us, not the loudest. In the middle of the night, I can hear a dripping tap a hundred yards away through three closed doors. I've been hearing little creaking noises and sounds which my imagination turns into footsteps in the middle of the night for twenty-five years in our house. How come I never hear those sounds in the daytime?

I'm quite clear in my mind what are good sounds and what are bad sounds.

I've turned against whistling, for instance. I used to think of it as the mark of a happy worker but lately I've been associating the whistler with a nervous person making compulsive noises.

The tapping, tapping, tapping of my typewriter as the keys hit the paper is a lovely sound to me. I often like the sound of what I write better than the looks of it.

TRAVEL

- A You won't be disappointed because they have lots to offer visitors of all ages and interests. In the stunning mountain ranges, the varied terrain suits skiers and snowboarders of every level. There's also a wide range of affordable accommodation, including ski-in, ski-out options; restaurants, bars and shops for every budget.

- B Getting to Canada couldn't be easier – there are direct flights from Heathrow, Gatwick and Manchester to major Canadian cities in the winter season. And, once you're there, it's easy to get from the major cities to the ski resorts – Québec City, Kelowna, Calgary, Edmonton, Montréal and Vancouver are all close to major resorts.

- C If you're planning a skiing holiday, forget Europe, where the snow can be patchy, the language can be a problem and the Euro's sky high, and look further afield for an experience to remember.

- D The Canadian ski season starts in November and ends in late May, with excellent snow conditions and short ski lift queues so you can make the most of the snow. But let's not overlook Canada's greatest strength – its people. You'll meet locals whose mission it is to make your skiing holiday, both on and off the slopes, your best ever. There are all sorts of activities away from the slopes (dog-sledding, snowshoeing and cross-country, to name but a few).

- E From the raw beauty of the Canadian Rockies to Québec's pretty mountain villages, Canada is the perfect place to discover your sense of adventure.

The following letter from Mike about his recent European vacation was sent to Linda. Unfortunately, her dog chewed it up and now Mike needs to put it back in the right order. Can you help him?

Dear Linda,

How are things with you? It was great talking to you yesterday by phone.

1.

I can't wait to arrive in Athens to see all that history. Let me tell you something about where we have been so far. I know you want to come here on vacation too one day!

2.

We saw a lot of great history and the only bad thing was the weather - it rained for the whole time we were there. Can you believe it?

3.

Well, I have to say I prefer the American Disneyland. But we met some nice people from Canada and spent two great days with them. One of them, Clive, is going to your university next year. How's that for a coincidence!

4.

After that, we went south into Switzerland. It was very expensive and we couldn't stay as long as we wanted to, so that's why we're in Italy now!

5.

See you soon,

Mike

Read the paragraphs (A-F) and decide where they need to go in the letter, in the most appropriate gaps (1-5). Note that there is one extra paragraph that you do not need to use!

A Clive and his wife left us once we got to Germany by train. They went up into Denmark but we continued to Munich. Wow - what a great city. I bought you a surprise gift there. I hope you like it. I paid nearly $200 for it but it looks magnificent and is made of real leather.

B As I told you yesterday, I am in Rome today. Tomorrow we are getting the train down into the south of the country and then the ship across to Greece.

C We started in England and we spent two days in London and another day in Canterbury.

D OK, that's enough from me for now. I want to post this letter now so you get it by the weekend.

E At least when we got to Paris, the sun was shining! We only stayed for one afternoon in the French capital because my friends really wanted to visit Euro Disney which is to the east of Paris.

F I sent her a postcard last night. It had the Eiffel Tower on it, which she has always wanted to visit. Now she can look at it on a postcard every day!

5 Carefully read the text below and then do the exercise that follows.

The Silver Bore

If you've ever seen a pirate film in the past, you can save your money. This is one of the most predictable films I have seen this year. The plot is totally unbelievable and the script is something amateurish out of filmmaker college. There is some nice cinematography but the Hawaiian scenery is not enough to save this film. Great support acting from the Frenchman Thierry Montpasse as the evil Captain Scar.

Daniel Jones

Pirates At The Speed Of Light

I just loved this fast-moving pirate thriller. The story moves at dizzying speed from one terrifying battle scene to the next and you really feel as if you are on the ships with these evil thieves and smugglers. Chief pirate, British actor Colin Williams, is given all the best, wittiest lines and the film has its share of laughs as well as scary moments. The storm scene at the beginning leaves you both exhausted and terrified.

Angela Moore

C

A Hidden Treasure

I found this film absolutely delightful. An inspiring cast is directed with great skill and invention by German Dieter Muller. There are plenty of surprises in the story to keep the audience guessing until the last minute. Some clever jokes give the film a surprising level of humor too, which I really wasn't expecting from a film about pirates.

Max Court

Film Should Walk The Plank

The Silver Glove promises much but delivers very little. The opening scene, filmed in a storm of lightning and high waves, is an exciting start but as the film takes you from one swordfight to another - it starts to seem a bit monotonous. Patricia Groves plays the doctor wonderfully and there may be an Oscar nomination for her in the new year.

Deborah McGhee

E

Sharp Sword Drama

The Silver Glove is an action-packed pirate drama in the best traditions of this genre. If you only want swordfights and buried treasure, you may be disappointed as this intriguing film also offers a complex plot which is never dull. Some of the language may be too crude for younger children but this is really my only complaint. Some fine acting completes this fun movie.
